

I really am getting tired of the government getting involved with what should be a choice for the average American. I subscribe to the XM service and I chose the XM radio for that reason. It has all I could ever want to listen to and more, but it's just that a subscriber service, so I should get what I pay for.